

Mrs. Johnson's Newsletter

Friday, December 8, 2017

Math workbook pages for next week: review week

- 1. Next Week—We will be reading different versions of the Gingerbread Boy story and comparing and contrasting them to each other. We will be reviewing our first semester of math using our gingerbread theme, as well as adding more coding. In writing, we will be writing our OWN version of a gingerbread story. We will end our week by creating our gingerbread houses!!
- 2. December Homework folders—We will be doing something a little different for homework folders this month. There will be a sheet to tell you what to do each night. My hope is to help everyone read with more expression. Because there is an activity each night, homework folders will be due on FRIDAYS in December. There will be NO SPELLING HOMEWORK next week.
- 3. Classroom Supplies—There are several kiddos who could use another set of ear bud headphones, and even more kiddos who could use more glue sticks, boxes of 24 crayons, and pencils for their art boxes! These would make GREAT stocking stuffers! =)
- 4. Gingerbread Houses—We have had 14 cartons turned in for our houses. If you have any extra, PLEASE send them in so we have enough for everyone to make a house. Please send in your donations for our houses before Wednesday so I can get it all organized. It should be a fun and delicious week. =)
- 5. Class Christmas Gifts—Please send in your wrapped $3 gift exchange books by Monday, December 18th. Remember—they are for ANY child. Our tree is up, so you can send them in any time.
- 6. Christmas Program—We had a great turn out for our Christmas Program! The kiddos did a FANTASTIC job!

Have a great weekend!! =)

Mrs. Johnson

Happy Holidays